

ERS Course

Virtual school on How scientific journals work

04 May 2023

Online

Thursday, 04 May 2023

Course Chairs: Esther Barreiro Portela (Barcelona, Spain), James D. Chalmers (Dundee, United Kingdom), W. Song (Seoul, Republic of Korea)

Chair: James D. Chalmers

09:00–09:20 The author’s perspective - W. Song (Seoul, Republic of Korea)
09:20–09:30 Q&A - W. Song

Chair: Esther Barreiro Portela

09:30–09:50 The editor’s perspective - J. Chalmers
09:50–10:00 Q&A - J. Chalmers

10:00–10:10 Break

10:10–11:10 Break-out round 1 – Esther Barreiro Portela, James D. Chalmers, W. Song, H. Keir (Dundee, United Kingdom), Y. Khor (Melbourne, Australia), D. Loth (Breda, Netherlands), F. Frost (Liverpool, United Kingdom), J. Cruz (Leiria, Portugal)

Being an author: the most important points to consider when organizing and writing a manuscript

Being an editor: the most relevant points to consider for a clinical specialized respiratory journal

Discussion

Chair: W. Song

11:10–11:30 The expert reviewer’s perspective – F. Frost (Liverpool, United Kingdom)
11:30–11:40 Q&A – F. Frost

Chair: J. Chalmers

11:40–12:00 The journal's perspective - E. Barreiro Portela (Barcelona, Spain)

12:00–12:10 Q&A - E. Barreiro Portela

12:10–12:20 Break

12:20–13:20 Breakout round 2 - Esther Barreiro Portela, James D. Chalmers, W. Song, H. Keir (Dundee, United Kingdom), Y. Khor (Melbourne, Australia), D. Loth (Breda, Netherlands), F. Frost (Liverpool, United Kingdom), J. Cruz (Leiria, Portugal)

Being a reviewer: the most important points to consider when reviewing a manuscript

Submitting a paper: most important points to consider at the time of selecting the best journal

Discussion

13:20–13:30 Wrap-up - W. Song, J. Chalmers, E. Barreiro Portela